PREFACE

The Census of Manufacturing is a co-operative survey of Statistics Canada and the Alberta Bureau of Statistics. This joint venture makes it possible to significantly reduce the response burden of manufacturers in Alberta. Appreciation is extended to these manufacturers for their indulgence in providing the statistics necessary for the preparation of this publication.

Several important facts should be considered when using these data. The data contained in this publication are the most recent small area statistics available. However, current estimates of the value of shipments of goods of own manufacture are published in each quarter in the Alberta Statistical Review. The shipment values are published in that report for the 20 industry groups within the manufacturing sector. These preliminary estimates, based on a monthly sample survey of manufacturers, are available approximately six weeks after the end of the reference month. Each year when the annual Census of Manufactures data become available, this series is adjusted to the new census totals.

Statistics are disaggregated to the four-digit 1970 Standard Industrial Classification, SIC, component level. When compiling data to the two-digit level, do not add figures for both the three-digit and the four-digit industry components, as this will result in double counting.

INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION

This publication is the seventh in an annual series and presents statistics on manufacturing industries in Alberta. Data compiled are based on information collected in the 1979 Census of Manufactures. The Census is conducted annually by Statistics Canada and information is shared with the Alberta Bureau of Statistics.

Statistics are disaggregated to the finest level of industrial and geographical detail possible, in concurrence with The Statistics Bureau Act, RSA, 1970. Principal manufacturing statistics are collected by manufacturer and aggregated by type of industry, major urban municipalities and census divisions. In addition, statistics are classified by the following types of industry activity: agricultural processing, petrochemical, metals and equipment, forest products, non-metallic minerals and manufacturing industries not elsewhere specified.

PUBLICATION CRITERIA

Statistics presented in this publication conform to the confidentiality guidelines of The Statistics Bureau Act, RSA, 1970. which prevents disclosure of information pertaining to an individual establishment.

In practice, this means that some statistics cannot be published: (i) aggregations that contain less than three establishments, and (ii) statistics pertaining to more than three establishments when the industry is dominated by one or two establishments. An asterisk in place of a statistic indicates that data has been suppressed to prevent disclosure of confidential information.

DEFINITIONS

Principal Manufacturing Statistics - Consist of: the number of manufacturing establishments reporting; number of employees; total wages and salaries; cost of materials and supplies; and cost of fuel and electricity; value of shipments; and value added.

Establishment - Smallest operating unit capable of reporting specific input and output data, usually a plant or mill.

Employee - Employees refer to production and non-production employees engaged in the manufacturing industry.

Salaries and Wages - Salaries and wages are reported before income tax deductions and employee benefits, and comprise all man-hours paid for regular work, overtime, paid leave, bonuses, commissions, etc.

Production and Related Workers - Employees engaged in processing and assembling, storing, inspecting (including quality control), handling and packing manufactured goods. Includes employees in related activities such as maintenance, repair, janitorial and watchmen services, and working foremen doing similar work to that of employees they supervise.

Administrative, Office and Non-Production Employees - Employees on the executive, administrative, sales office and warehousing staff.

Cost of Materials and Supplies, Fuel and Electricity - Consumption of purchased items at laid-down cost. Includes inter-company and intra-company transfers, contract work by others and motor fuel consumption.

Value of Shipments of Good of Own Manufacture - Gross value of good produced from its own materials by the reporting establishment, or for its account. Value is net of discounts, returns and allowances, sales tax, excise taxes and duties, returnable containers, and common or contract carriers' charges for outward transportation (but not of own carriers' delivery expense). It includes repair and customs revenue, transfers to reporting units of the same firm, all exports, and book value of own products shipped on a rental basis. Unsold domestic consignment shipments are not included. For two industries, the fabricated structural metal industry and aircraft and aircraft parts manufacturers, value of production is substituted for value of shipments.

Value Added - Net output as measured by gross output less purchased commodity inputs used and contract work by others; or, value of shipments of own manufacture plus net change in inventory of goods in process and finished goods, less cost of materials and supplies used, fuel and electricity.

Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) - SIC is a method of uniformly categorizing establishments engaged in the same or a similar kind of economic activity. Results of the 1979 Census of Manufacturers, as presented in this publication, utilize the 1970 revision of the Standard Industrial Classification. A complete description of these SIC codes is found in Appendix B.

Manufacturing Activity - Consists of production and non-production (administrative) activities located at the manufacturing establishment.

Total Activity - Consists of production and non-production (administrative) activities located at the manufacturing establishment and other ancillary activities such as head office, sales office and warehouse activities at locations physically separate from the manufacturing establishment.

Treatment of Separately Located Head Offices, Sale Offices and Ancillary Units - It should be noted that head offices, etc., are included in provincial industry statistics (Tables 1, 1A and 10-15) but are excluded from all sub-provincial manufacturing data (Tables 2-9).

METHODOLOGY

Data are collected by three main types of questionnaires: the "long form" is sent to large establishments, requesting detailed information on principal statistics and on commodity inputs and outputs; the "short form" is sent to small establishments, asking for minimum principal statistics and no commodity detail; and the "head office schedule" is sent to head offices and ancillary units, where these locations are physically separate from the location of manufacturing activity.

The criteria for differentiating "large" and "small" establishments varies by industry and province (and through time) but, in general, is governed by the objective of minimizing respondent burden without the loss of a siginficant quantity of commodity data.

Other data collection procedures for the 1979 survey year included the utilization of Revenue Canada information in place of direct surveying for some of the smaller manufacturers. In accordance with the confidentiality restrictions established by Revenue Canada, it was necessary for Statistics Canada to aggregate individual records in order to prevent disclosure of personal information to external agencies such as the Bureau.

The questionnaires are completed for the fiscal year ending as early as April 1 of the reference year or as late as March 31 of the following calendar year.

RESULTS OF THE CENSUS

In 1979, manufacturing establishments in Alberta totalled 2,305, an increase of 255 establishments from 1978.

The labour requirements of Alberta's manufacturing sector increased by an additional 3,345 employees between 1978 and 1979 (see Table I). This increase brought the number of manufacturing employees in the province to 77,345. Employment in manufacturing, expressed as a percentage of the employed labour force, was 7.9 percent in 1979. This percentage has shown minimal change between 1974 and 1979, varying between 7.8 percent and 8.2 percent of the employed labour force.

The relative contributions from manufacturing to the provincial economy, measured in terms of value added to the goods producing industries, was $2.9 billion -- an increase of $451 million from the 1978 level (see Table II). The other goods producing industries, which include agriculture, forestry, fisheries, hunting and trapping, mining which includes petroleum, and electric power and electricity, contributed $19.2 billion to the provincial economy. The most significant contributions by value added to Alberta's economy were: mining, $11.5 billion; construction, $5.5 billion; and manufacturing, $2.9 billion.

Table III shows the contribution of the manufacturing sector to gross domestic product (GDP). Manufacturing contributed 7.5 percent of the total provincial GDP in 1979.

Table IV shows manufacturing shipments by industry for 1977, 1978 and 1979. Overall, manufacturing shipments increased 20.3 percent to $8.9 billion in 1979. The food and beverage industry continued its dominance of manufacturing in Alberta with 31.6 percent of the total value of shipments. Together with the petroleum and coal products industries (19.0 percent) these two industries accounted for slightly more than 50 percent of the overall value of shipments. The industry with the largest percentage increase between 1978 and 1979 was in the primary metals with a growth of 36.8 percent in total value of shipments.

Table V shows a geographic breakdown of value of shipments by city in 1978 and 1979. Lethbridge showed the largest percentage increase in this period with a growth of 30.9 percent. Metro Edmonton accounted for $4.0 billion of the $8.9 billion total value of shipments in 1979. This represents approximately 45.7 percent of the Alberta total value shipments.
